

Classroom Course Description

Lessons in Leadership

These programs, facilitated by Training Services Division staff, feature the best in leadership and management thinking through taped presentations from internationally/nationally recognized experts.

Leading for Life: The Power of Confidence and Lifelong Learning

Presented by Tim Sanders, Author of Today We Are Rich

In this program, Tim Sanders shares why total confidence is the rocket fuel for personal and business success. He points out how confidence (and maintaining it) is based on a lifestyle, and not on the economic environment.

During this presentation, Tim Sanders will share:

- Why continuous learning, professional development, and curiosity in the world are important.
- How abundance thinking can transform teams and workgroups to accelerate innovation.
- How to hone your emotional intelligence and multiply your effectiveness with people.
- How to attract people to believe in what you believe, so that together you can work to build the world you imagine.

